

The Doctor

A doctor is an important person. He gets up early in the morning and goes to his clinic. He works day and night.

A doctor knows how to treat and cure sick people. He also knows how to dress and heal wounds. A doctor is a great friend of the sick. He always speaks politely so that the patients feel comfortable.

He never gets irritated and does his best for the sick. A doctor's life is hard. He or she does not have much time for sleep and rest.

He has to remain on duty in the hospital. A doctor fights disease and death. He saves many lives. He speaks softly to his patients.

He shall always be ready to serve the sick patients, whenever needed, be it a day or at night. As a doctor, being in a social worker who has to perform the sacred duty and responsibility of serving the people of my country.

If Defined that a poor patient could not afford the doctor's fee or even the cost of the medicines, He comes forward to waive the former and pay in cash money for the latter.

He feels that an ideal doctor must adjust his professional needs with social service.

The doctor will always be needed. Because of this, and because of the population growth, doctors will always be in demand and the profession will continue to grow. This way, a doctor will be unemployed less and will be more secure, financially.

A doctor's profession is noble. A doctor is just like a god for the patients. We should be grateful to the doctor. We must respect him.
